“What we...learn to do, we learn by doing” –Aristotle

This Implementation Plan will help you implement lessons and activities that support children’s attainment of pro-social skills. The trainer will read and review this Implementation Plan and give you some more ideas for ways that you can improve your observational skills.

The Core Competency this Implementation Plan addresses is: Develop and model developmentally appropriate guidance approaches that promote positive behaviors, problem solving and self-control.

DIRECTIONS:

1. Using the information you gathered from the training, develop a lesson plan to teach one of the six friendship skills (Play Organizers, Sharing, Being Helpful/Team player, Taking Turns, Giving Compliments, and Knowing How to Apologize).
2. Use the template provided in this document to develop your plan. You will notice the plan requires that the lesson include plans for:
 - a. Rationale for teaching skill,
 - b. Description of skill,
 - c. Demonstration of skill to children,
 - d. Practice of skill by children,
 - e. Opportunities to promote the skill throughout the classroom and day.
3. Implement the lesson.
4. Take video or photographic evidence of implementation of the following portions of the lesson
 - a. Demonstration of skill to children,
 - b. Practice of skill by children,
 - c. Opportunities to promote the skill throughout the classroom and day.

Teacher's Explanation of Activity:
Explaining what was done

It is important for the trainer to understand exactly what you did. This will help the trainer give you some ideas to do an even better job next time.

1. Why did you choose the friendship skill you chose?
2. How long did it take to complete your work?
3. Did you face difficulties when developing the lesson? If so, what were the difficulties? If not, what made it easy?
4. Did you face difficulties in implementation? If so, what were the difficulties? If not, what made it easy?

THE ARTIFACT: Showing your work

A really important part of learning is showing other people what you did and what you learned. This helps you to see your work and to think about everything you learned.

1. Provide a copy of the below listed items by attaching them to your completed implementation plan:
 - a. Completion of IP Module 2A Form
 - b. Video or Photo of your lesson implementation (A disk, thumbdrive, or open access hyperlink is preferred)
